

HOLIDAY GIFT IDEAS FROM THE

Marly's Soy Candles:

Marly sells not only speciality soy candles, but also specializes in body and skin products. She is a skin specialist and makes all her natural skin care items at home. You will find specialty ingredients ranging from COQ-10, vitamin C and E, avocado butter and jojoba oil. She is offering marked down prices for the holiday including buy 1 candle, get the 2nd half off. And discounts on the her most popular product for the dry season: Shea butter offered at 16oz $10 and 8oz $5.

www.shop.marlysoycandles.com

Pickle D Licious:

Pickled treats of all varieties. NY Garlic Sours which are aged for 6 months - delicious! - and a fresh, mild pickle called Half- Sour. You'll also find pickled beets which are fire roasted before aged, gazpacho soup, and cucumber salad. You can ask for gift packaging for your fermented goods that will come displayed in a mason jar and ribbon.

There are also some baked treats by Donna like banana and pumpkin spiced breads.

Prices range from $4- $8.

Herb Essentia:

This is our medicinal gourmet tea booth. Aimee home-makes her tea blends with a special touch! For the holiday season she is offering a winter spice blend and a gift bag with a mug included. Expect to find a range of natural medicinal remedies such as Detox Cleanser, Immunity Blend, Sleep Well, Weight Loss, Happy Days and much more. She also has a few smaller treats like lip and cuticle balms. Each package has 20 bags with brewing instructions. The teas are priced at $8.50 per package, 2 packages for $16 and 3 packages for $22.

www.herbessentia.com

Coconut Grove Farm:

There is nothing like the taste of local organic produce! Our season typically ranges from November through March. Coconut farms brings all freshly hand-harvested produce from Homestead and outsources only when they need to. They work only with ethically sound family farms.

Available this week are various green lettuces, squash (sunburst), avocados, and typical staples like potatoes, onions and apples. Be on the lookout for specialty items coming into harvest such as strawberries and mamey!

Freakin Flamingo:

Renee makes the most creative eccentric jams imaginable! Perfect gifts for out of town folks who lack great Floridian flavors and locals who can't get enough. At her booth you can find fun flavors such as Guayaba Coconut, Piña Colada with rum, Apple Ginger, and Blueberry Mojito. She comes highly recommended by Edible South Florida Magazine. Regular jams are $9 and the sugar-free for $9.25. She has a gift sampler package for $15.50.

www.freakinflamingo.com

War Teg:

Eva's homemade Authentic Indonesian food is mostly vegan and packed with flavor. Every week she provides new dishes ranging from mung bean noddles, stir fry veggies, green papaya, jasmine rice stuffed in banana leaves and lets not forget her famous veggie fritters. Her prices range from $4-$8 and do ask about city employee discounts